Human Relations Club instills a feeling of community and solidarity within the College. Every month club members meet and during these meetings, the members intend on pushing students beyond their ordinary comfort zones. Club activities encourage member to get to know other students with whom they otherwise would not know. At the same time, students learn about themselves and evaluate their own beliefs on various subjects. REPORT

As a Sub Club of Inclusive centre, Human Relation Club organised a programme on the topic “Relationships Online Vs Offline” was conducted on 24.09.2022. by the convenor Dr.D.Dhanunjaya Rao. Guest speaker Chintapalli Venkata Narayana garu, Literary writer interacted with students on Online relationships that were those formed on SNSs including forums, chat rooms, gaming spaces and messenger platforms. Offline relationships were usually defined as those initiated in the neighbourhood, school or any other face-to-face space of social interaction. He also highlighted that the rise of the Internet has made geographical proximity and social similarity less crucial in making friends and digital means have facilitated youth broadening their social circles. He also said that when online interactions are combined with offline interactions, the overall relationships are stronger, closer and more intimate and, as such, are more likely than purely online relationships to provide emotional and even tangible support (e.g., caring for a net-friend's child). Together, online and offline interactions can enhance the overall quality of social relationships between two older Internet users and thus be more beneficial to the individuals.

Our students, Vice Principal D.Uday Prakasha Rao, N.Sreenivasa Rao, Dr.M.Hari Prasad and others participated in this programme. Convenor Dr.D.Dhanunjaya Rao of this and other felicitated Guest speaker Chintapalli Venkata Narayana garu and finally concluded with a vote of thanks by the convenor Dr.D.Dhanunjaya Rao.
